

$25 Reward For Information

Leading to a complete explanation of what this is called and what it is used for. A successful reward recipient will provide a written explanation of how the part is used and will provide a picture of its application. We don't need any guesses we need proof.

This part was purchased from Ace Hardware during their garage sale day. Mr. Elmer Smaller acquired the part from a war surplus auction several years back. He had no idea of its intended use.
