

CCHS is the ADDA National Champion!

The Cañon City Chapter of the American Design Drafting program, class of 2011, won more places in the national design contest than any school in the nation. There are three levels of achievement in each of the six categories: Board of Governors' Award (1st Place), Board of Directors' Award (2nd Place) and the President's Award (3rd Place). The winners by category are:

Architectural Presentation: Rebecca Shaw, Board of Directors' Award

Residential Design and Drafting: Lindsay Versaw, Board of Directors' Award, Jake Bradbury, President's Award

Commercial Architectural: Matthew Hand, Board of Governors' Award, Jesse Croft, Board of Directors' Award, Jeff Carlson, Board of Directors' Award

Mechanical Design: Kaleen Masse, Board of Governors' Award, Jonathan Vodopich, Board of Directors' Award, Dillon McConnon, President's Award

Open Design and Drafting: Karri Cote, Board of Governors' Award, Megan Kelley and Ashley Brown, Board of Directors' Award, Athena Kalipolites, President's Award

Technical Illustration Mechanical: Riley Meagher, Board of Governors' Award, Patrick Bergin, Board of Directors' Award, Brian Woodruff, President's Award

Cañon City High School won 14 out of the 18 possible awards in this national design contest, sweeping 4 of the six categories. This is the 16th year in a row that we have been ranked Number One in the nation by the American Design Drafting Association. Could there be a 17th year in a row in the making? The class of 2012 thinks, yes! We have 37 talented juniors who are ready to compete next year.
